

Poinsettia Photo Opportunity

Date: Tuesday, November 30, 2010

For Immediate Release

VICTORIA, BC — Each year, City Parks staff grow close to 900 poinsettia plants from seedlings in the Beacon Hill Park nursery. These festive annuals come in various shades of red, pink and white. The plants are now ready to make City Hall, the Council Chambers' "poinsettia tree", the Victoria Conference Centre and local community centres their new home come the second week of December.

Members of the media are invited to witness this brilliant burst of holiday colour on display in the Beacon Hill Park nursery, on Wednesday, December 1 from 10 a.m. to Noon.

Parks employee David Grayson will be available for interviews on site.
