

Pop-up Park to Transform Centennial Square

Date: Thursday, November 17, 2016

For Immediate Release

VICTORIA, BC — This Friday and Saturday, Centennial Square will be transformed into a hub of family friendly activities with inflatables, crafts and food trucks. The City's 'Pop-up Park' will be a place for people of all ages to come together to plan the future of Victoria's parks.

What: City of Victoria's Pop-up Park
When: Friday, November 18, 2016 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Saturday, November 19, 2016 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Where: Centennial Square

On both days, there will be painting and crafts for kids, all-ages games including a golf challenge, inflatable basketball and lawn games. Hungry Rooster and DeadBeetz food trucks will be onsite.

On Friday, the community is invited to participate in free boot camp and Zumba classes from noon to 1 p.m. On Saturday, the Pop-up Park will be accompanied by an open house at the McPherson Playhouse for the public to learn about and provide feedback on the draft plan for Victoria's parks.

The City is developing a Parks and Open Spaces Master Plan with the community to guide improvements to Victoria's 137 parks and open spaces over the next 25 years. The City is seeking the community's feedback on the proposed goals and actions in the draft plan. The public can also provide input through an online survey, available until Monday, December 5, 2016.
