Completed in 2006, this $9.5 million rehabilitation created 46 new residential apartments on the upper floors of the 1892 Wilson Dalby Block and the 1941 McLennan, McFeely and Prior Block. Cielo Properties Inc. also attracted Mountain Equipment Co-op to the ground floor, attracting new pedestrians and shoppers to the area. The project earned an Award of Merit from the Hallmark Society in 2007. A unique aspect of the project is the re-use of historic building artifacts from buildings demolished for the Eaton's Centre mall as decorative features around a new coffee shop courtyard at the western end of the building.
